

LANXESS facilitates collaborative development for the rubber industry

Chennai, April 30, 2014. LANXESS, the global specialty chemicals company, has taken a novel initiative towards innovation in partnership with its leading distributor for rubber businesses, Ram Charan Co Pvt Ltd, which is a strategic business partner to leading manufacturers in rubber, plastics and, inks and coatings industries. The assets of the erstwhile LANXESS Rubber Chemicals Technical Centre in Thane have now been relocated to the Tech Centre of Ram Charan at Chennai. The Centre, which will serve rubber customers across the country, will also be staffed by Ram Charan. This Centre was opened today in the presence of Mr. B. Jayamani, Secretary – Indian Rubber Institute, who was the Chief Guest, Mr. Divyesh Palicha, Chairman, Ram Charan and Mr. Vinay Jayade, Head of Business Unit Rubber Chemicals, LANXESS India.

This Tech Centre, which houses all rubber testing equipment provided by LANXESS, will undertake testing, formulation development and application development to address specific customer problems in the rubber industry. This is well aligned with LANXESS' philosophy of innovation through collaborative research in order to address customer specific needs and develop new product applications.

The fact that the Centre is in Chennai is also of strategic importance as the state of Tamil Nadu is the new hub for automotive and tire industries, which are the key customers of the rubber industry. From this Centre, LANXESS and Ram Charan will be able to especially serve the fast growing rubber markets in South India and Sri Lanka.

Besides the Rubber chemicals business of LANXESS, Ram Charan is also the distributor for High Performance Elastomers, Keltan Elastomers and products from Rhein Chemie. This mutual agreement between LANXESS and Ram Charan will therefore benefit the customers of these businesses as well.
